The annual appeal for sustaining members for the Boy Scout movement was started in Circleville and Pickaway county Wednesday following an "Early Bird" breakfast in Hanley's tearoom. It was attended by Kiwanians, scouters and other persons interested in maintaining scout work for boys of the community.

Enthusiasm prevailed during the early morning meeting, which was addressed by Judge Harold L. Kime of the Franklin county municipal court. Judge Kime told the workers of his interest in scouting, and congratulated the group on its spirit of community service and interest in youth. He said he regarded obtaining money for scout work and similar character building and charitable enterprises a pleasure for those participating.

Interest Shown

L. M. Mader, member of the special gifts committee, announced much success in his efforts to obtain assistance. Some money has already been secured.

Renick W. Dunlap, of Pickaway township, chairman of the campaign, admonished workers to take advantage of the goodwill shown for the scout movement, and expressed the opinion that the goal of $600 would be met without difficulty.

KARL HULS NEW HIGH PRINCIPAL FOR DEERCREEK

Karl F. Huls was elevated to the principalship of Williamsport high school Tuesday night by the board of education, succeeding George Miller. H. L. Sans is superintendent. Mr. Huls will continue as coach.

The board employed Calloway Taubee, of McArthur, as instructor in social and biological sciences and history. Mr. Taubee taught in McArthur the last three years. He is a graduate of the Eastern Kentucky Teachers College and has taken graduate work at Ohio State university.

All other teachers have been re-employed with the exception of Mrs. Agnes Dean Wertman, who did not apply for re-appointment. Winona Stonerock, Deercreek township, was employed to succeed Mrs. Wertman as fourth grade teacher.

Board of Education Approves Salary Increases For Superintendent and Principal; Graduates Passed

Re-election of Frank Fischer as superintendent of Circleville schools under a two-year contract, and Elmer E. Reger, as principal of the high school for one year, was announced Wednesday by the board of education.

Mr. Fischer has served as superintendent for the last two and a half years. Mr. Reger has served two years in his position.

1937 WHEAT CROP ESTIMATE DOWN

Month Makes Difference of
3,000,000 Bushels

BULLETIN
Wheat dropped three cents on the Circleville market Wednesday to $1.18 per bushel.

CHICAGO, June 2 — (UP) — Estimates of the 1937 winter wheat crop, issued today by five leading grain commentators and analysts showed a decrease of 3,000,000 bushels from their figures of a month ago.

Their average estimate on the 1937 winter crop was 649,000,000 bushels. On May 1 the composite estimate was 652,000,000 bushels.

The government estimate on May 1 placed the probable wheat yield at 654,000,000 bushels and today's private estimates represent a drop of 5,000,000 bushels from that figure.

Today's average estimate of the 1937 yield of winter wheat was 130,000,000 bushels greater than the actual 1936 yield of 519,000,000 bushels.

Compared with a final crop of 212,000,000 bushels last year, two analysts estimated the Canadian prairie provinces' wheat yield at an average of 330,000,000 bushels of spring wheat.

NEW YORK MART IRREGULAR AFTER EARLY STRENGTH

NEW YORK, June 2 — (UP) — The stock market turned irregular today after an early rally.

U. S. Steel touched 99½ up 1½, and Bethlehem 85½ up 1½, but they dipped to 99 and 84½, respectively. National Steel fell more than 2 points from an early high.

New Haven common made a new low at 3½ off 1½ on publication of the road's reorganization plan. This appeared more beneficial to preferred stock and bonds, and they advanced. Other railroad stocks were higher.

Farm issues were strong, but dull. Coppers had gains ranging to more than a point. Golds declined with Homestake off 7 at 373. Rubbers lost half of early gains ranging to 2 points in U. S. Rubber. Electrical equipments were strong but inactive. Oils netted small gains.

GIRL, STRICKEN DURING VALEDICTORY, IMPROVES

MANSFIELD, June 2 — (UP) — Unconscious for three days after she collapsed while giving the valedictory at the Adario high school commencement, Miss Miriam Culler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Culler of near Shiloh, was in improved condition today.

Miss Culler, an honor student, fainted before she was half through her address last Thursday night. The collapse was attributed to her strenuous schedule during the last week of school by Dr. Butler and Superintendent Robert Wendland of the Adario school.

Bombardment of Almeria by German warships followed quickly, with nearly 100 deaths, bringing a tense situation to Europe.

Duce and Hitler's Aide Confer in Rome Today

ROME, June 2 — (UP) — Premier Benito Mussolini intends to discuss with Field Marshal Werner Von Blomberg, German war minister, the possibility of direct Italian-German intervention in the Spanish civil war.

If intervention were decided on, it was said, it would be started in reprisal for any further loyalist "aggressions" such as the bombing of the German battleship Deutschland and the Italian auxiliary warship Barietta in the Balearic Islands.

There were reports that Mussolini already was massing men and material for big scale intervention, in event that he felt it advisable to order that grave step. It was impossible, however, to confirm this.

Von Blomberg Arrives

Baron Von Blomberg, Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's key man in the defense ministries, a hard-headed professional soldier, arrived here today for an official visit to King Victor Emmanuel and Mussolini.

Though officially the visit is of ceremonial nature, actually it is expected to result in some of the most important military discussions of recent months. It is denied that Italy and Germany are planning to negotiate a formal military alliance. But Blomberg is to be taken to inspect representative units of all the branches of the army and air force of which Mussolini is so proud, and also will be the guest of honor at a navy review off Gaeta, above Naples on the west coast.

Regardless of any formal alliance, it has been made plain to (Continued on Page Eight)

Pennsylvania Governor May Bid for White House

WASHINGTON, June 2 — (UP) — Rich and affable Gov. George H. Earle of Pennsylvania tonight makes a public appearance which may lead him to the Democratic presidential nomination in 1940 and possibly to the White House.

Earle will be honor guest and speaker before the Southern Society here in what politicians interpret as a first bid for leadership of the New Deal-Democratic party in 1940. Southern statesmen will have their first close-up view of Earle on that occasion. It appears to be the beginning of a movement to sell the South on Earle as President Roosevelt's successor.

A Democratic scramble for 1940 preference began with Mr. Roosevelt's re-election last November. But political observers do not yet

Fight at Ford's Plant in Court

Tom Girdler, Magnate of Cleveland Company,
Holds Fast Against Signing Union Pact;
Use of Airplanes to Drop Food Continues

WARREN, June 2 — (UP) — A Republic Steel Corporation plane crashed today in landing food inside a plant here.

The ship fell into a row of railroad box cars used as a shield to obscure unloading observations. It was not known immediately whether the pilot was injured.

BY UNITED PRESS

While hundreds of police patrolled steel manufacturing areas in Chicago to prevent repetition of violence, the Republic Steel Corporation held fast today against signing a working agreement with steel unions affiliated with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

In Cleveland, Tom Girdler, Republic chairman, said he had never met John L. Lewis, C. I. O. head, "And I hope I never see him."

Meanwhile, the strike of thousands of steel workers had reduced Republic production by half, and had completely shut down plants of two other large independent producers — Inland Steel Corporation and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Airplanes Drop Food
Republic continued to use airplanes to drop tons of food to non-striking workers inside picket-besieged plants at Warren, O.

Meanwhile, in Detroit, a one-man grand jury prepared to hear high officials of the Ford Company explain circumstances of a fight last week in which two United Automobile Workers union organizers were injured.

U. A. W. A. officials predicted that a "rent strike" in Pontiac, Mich., soon would spread to Detroit and affect 50,000 families.

There were two bright spots on the labor horizon:

In Hollywood, a month-old strike of motion picture technicians was believed nearing an end.

In Gillespie, Ill., it was announced that 550 miners, who staged an 8-day sit-down strike at the bottom of the Superior Coal Company's mine at Wilsonville, will return to work pending negotiation of their demands.

Dewey Works Behind Cleveland Scenes

CLEVELAND, June 2 — (UP) — The federal government made quiet moves behind the steel strike scene to seek peace today as managements of three independent producers and unionists remained steadfast in their positions.

James A. Dewey, United States commissioner of conciliation, was in Pittsburgh, ostensibly to confer with Philip Murray, Steel Workers' organizing committee chairman.

He was to come to Cleveland tomorrow, where it was assumed generally he would seek a conference with heads of Republic Steel Corporation, largest of the independents which have refused to sign contracts with the S. W. O. C. On Job at Youngstown

STATE HIGHWAY OFFICIAL ORDERS PLANS PREPARED

Frank W. Turner Announces
Road Re-Building Listed
As Flood Project

COST NOT ESTIMATED

Trestle-Style Structure To Be Provided

Federal approval of a program to re-build Route 22, immediately west of the Scioto river bridge, was announced Wednesday by Frank W. Turner, Delaware, engineer for Division 6 of the state highway department.

Mr. Turner, who has taken much interest in the project, informed The Herald that the contract for the improvement would probably be let during the late fall or early winter. He has been instructed by John J. Jaster, Jr., state highway chief, to proceed at once with plans for the work, which will include construction of a long trestle-style bridge, and several other important undertakings which, it is hoped, will forever prevent flood waters of the Scioto from passing over the national road.

Cost Not Estimated

Mr. Turner said an estimate of the expense involved could not possibly be made until plans are complete. He believes the cost may be any figure between $300,000 and $500,000. The state will pay half of the expense and the federal government the remainder. Money has been set aside by the state for its share. Mr. Turner declared. Since Uncle Sam's approval has been granted, too, Mr. Turner believes that government funds are ready.

Route 22 is the principal road between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, and the volume of travel over it has been increasing steadily. At least once each year, and sometimes more often, high water from the Scioto crosses the roadway, forcing detours of several miles in length. Thousands of dollars have been spent in vain to correct the fault by improving the road after each flood. Under plans to be prepared by the highway department, the annual inundation will be eliminated.

Route 22 from New Holland eastward, will be closed to traffic in about two weeks.

Sides of the roadway are being improved. The improvement starts at New Holland and extends eastward about four and three-quarters miles.

259 WOMEN PUT OUT OF WORK BY FREMONT STRIKE

FREMONT, June 2 — (UP) — A picket line at the W. F. Emmons Manufacturing Co. plant today prevented 250 women employees from returning to work. The plant was closed more than a week ago by a labor dispute.

There was no violence but the women who attempted to go to work were urged not to do so by pickets. After several persons had talked, the women turned away.

August Scholle, Toledo, regional director of the Committee for Industrial Organization, said he would file charges with the national labor relations board on the ground that the company had violated terms of the Wagner labor act.

The firm, which manufactures women's garments, formerly was known as the A. H. Jackson Co. The discharge of 25 women employees allegedly for union activities, was said by labor leaders to have closed the plant.

Strikes at the Henkel-Chance Co., Schaff and Good Co., and the Fleming File Co. here entered the second week. All were being picketed.

Big Plane Takes Off For Paramaribo Airport

MIAMI, Fla., June 2 — (UP) — Amelia Earhart landed her globe-circling plane at Caripito, Venezuela, at 10:18 a. m. (EST) today after a flight from San Juan, Puerto Rico, according to radio reports received here by Pan American Airways.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, June 2 — (UP) — Amelia Earhart, continuing her round-the-world airplane flight, took off today for Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana. The American woman flier left at 5:30 a. m. EST, in fair weather. There was a light easterly wind. Miss Earhart planned, if advisable, to halt on her way to Paramaribo, at Carapito in northeastern Venezuela to refuel.

Re-election of Frank Fischer as superintendent of Circleville schools under a two-year contract, and Elmer E. Reger, as principal of the high school for one year, was announced Wednesday by the board of education.

Mr. Fischer has served as superintendent for the last two and a half years. Mr. Reger has served two years in his position.

Both were granted increases in salary. Last year the teachers were granted increases, but regulations under which the increases were granted did not apply to administrative heads.

Further increases for teachers depend on action of the legislature.

The list of 66 graduates was submitted to the board by Mr. Reger. It was approved.

No definite action was taken by the board on the suggestion the stage in the new addition be increased in size.

BRITISH PASTOR TO WED WALLY, DUKE IN MONTS

Blessing of English Church
Gained Despite Stand of

ALL ARRANGEMENTS MADE

Vicar of Darlington to Read
Religious Service

By WEBB MILLER
MONTS, France, June 2 (UP)—The Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield will have the blessing of a Church of England clergyman at their wedding at 5:30 a. m. EST tomorrow in the music room of Chateau De Candé. It was announced today.

Outwitting the archbishop of Canterbury, the duke has obtained the services of the Rev. R. Anderson Jardine, vicar of St. Paul's church of Darlington, England. Herman L. Rogers, spokesman for the duke and Mrs. Warfield, announced at the chateau.

Jardine will perform a religious ceremony after the civil wedding by Dr. Charles Mercier, mayor of Monts.

Rogers' announcement was a surprise, and the late hour at which it was announced was believed to mean that arrangements had only recently been made.

Announcement Formal
His announcement was a formal one, at a press conference this morning.

"The marriage of his royal highness the Duke of Windsor and Mrs. Wallis Warfield: the civil ceremony will be performed according to the laws of France followed by a Church of England ceremony performed by the Rev. R. Anderson Jardine."

The decision to hold the civil ceremony in the salon of the chateau was a late change of program also. The music room had been selected and furniture cleared from it. Rogers announced today that official witnesses and the five newspaper correspondents would be present at the civil ceremony. Other guests will wait in the music room adjoining.

Altar Erected
The religious service is to be held in the great library of the chateau. The temporary altar is being erected in the bay window looking out on the beautiful estate. Before this altar will be placed two cushions on which the duke and the American bride for whom he left his throne will kneel.

The duke and Mrs. Warfield were happy, excited and somewhat nervous as the hour which meant so much to them approached. Monts assumed a festive atmosphere. Villagers hung silk-covered horse shoes on the fences of the chateau to wish them good luck. A warm sun shone after days of bad weather.

An already strong guard of big gendarmes was increased to a total of 120 at the chateau. They are to admit no one but those bearing formal invitations to the wedding.

Cable men arrived, and they put up a temporary office in a garage near the chateau so that news can be flashed direct to Paris and thence through the world.

But of all the 800 newspaper and press association correspondents and photographers here, only five will be admitted to the chateau.

It was understood that the duke and Mrs. Warfield, after the wedding breakfast tomorrow, would leave the chateau for their Austrian honeymoon.

It was anticipated that gendarmes would block the road to keep anyone from trailing the guarded bridal car.

"Road's Out? Not to the No. 1 Car!" Sam knows all about rough roads, but he knows his Terraplane will go through where ordinary cars give up. For it has 96 smooth horsepower... more than cars priced hundreds of dollars higher! With not an ounce of needless weight to pull! That's one reason why Terraplane is the No. 1 performer.

"It's Got What It Takes!" Sam's driving a running mate of the 1937 Terraplane, and proved its endurance on the Utah Salt Flats... averaging 86.54 miles an hour for 1,000 miles... smashing 8 American Automobile Association records in the most punishing test ever given a low priced stock car. It's smoother riding, too, on a 117-inch wheelbase.

"Plenty of Room... and Then Some!" That extra front seat width comes in handy when Sam takes the family riding. A full 55 inches of comfort for three... several inches more than in other low priced cars! Plenty of leg room, front and back. Level rear floor. Big rear luggage compartment. Package locker with record roominess... 1002 cubic inches.

"No. 1 Safety, Tool!" Safest stopping, with exclusive Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes. Giant, smooth hydraulics, with a separate safety braking system operating automatically from the same foot pedal if ever needed. Plus a third system, the handy parking brake up at the instrument panel. Safest bodies, too, all of steel, including roofs.

AT THE GRAND
Earl Derr Biggers' famous national sleuth, Charlie Chan, makes his latest screen appearance in "Charlie Chan at the Opera," the new Twentieth Century-Fox picture coming Wednesday to the Grand theatre.

With Warner Oland as the wily Chinese sleuth and Boris Karloff playing his maniacal opponent, the film is hailed as the most exciting and nerve-jangling of the always-thrilling Chan films. Keya Luke, Charlotte Henry, Thomas Beck and Margaret Irving are featured in the cast.

... and Sam gets it there in his

No. 1 CAR!

"Road's Out? Not to the No. 1 Car!" Sam knows all about rough roads, but he knows his Terraplane will go through where ordinary cars give up. For it has 96 smooth horsepower... more than cars priced hundreds of dollars higher! With not an ounce of needless weight to pull! That's one reason why Terraplane is the No. 1 performer.

"It's Got What It Takes!" Sam's driving a running mate of the 1937 Terraplane that proved its endurance on the Utah Salt Flats... averaging 86.54 miles an hour for 1,000 miles... smashing 8 American Automobile Association records in the most punishing test ever given a low priced stock car. It's smoother riding, too, on a 117-inch wheelbase.

"Plenty of Room... and Then Some!" That extra front seat width comes in handy when Sam takes the family riding. A full 55 inches of comfort for three... several inches more than in other low priced cars! Plenty of leg room, front and back. Level rear floor. Big rear luggage compartment. Package locker with record roominess... 1002 cubic inches.

"No. 1 Safety, Too!" Safest stopping, with exclusive Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes. Giant, smooth hydraulics, with a separate safety braking system operating automatically from the same foot pedal if ever needed. Plus a third system, the handy parking brake up at the instrument panel. Safest bodies, too, all of steel, including roofs.

Come in Today... Drive the No. 1 Cars of the Low and Moderate Price Fields!

No. 1 Wheelbases... 117 inches in Terraplane, 122 and 129 inches in Hudson • No. 1 Horsepower... 96 and 101 in Terraplane; 101, 107 and 122 in Hudson. Double carburetion in Super Terraplane and all Hudson Sixes and Eights • No. 1 Roominess... 55 full inches of front seat comfort for three • No. 1 Driving Ease... with exclusive Selective Automatic Shift (an optional extra) • No. 1 Safety... with exclusive Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes and bodies all of steel, including roofs. New Double-Drop "2X" Frame • No. 1 Economy... 22 miles per gallon for Terraplane; 22.71 for Hudson in Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run • Hydraulic Hill-Hold, optional extra on all models—46 models—choice of 12 beautiful colors... also a complete line of Terraplane Commercial Cars. BANDIT, 24, HELD AFTER SHOOTING G-MAN TO DEATH

Guy Osborne, Arkansas, May Face Murder Charges
In New Mexico

TRUETT ROWE, 33, SLAIN

Ruse in Mountain Cabin Leads to Fatality

GALLUP, N. M., June 2 — (UP) — Guy Osborne, a 24-year-old Arkansas outlaw, was held in jail today for killing a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent who had arrested him.

The 11th of the country's famed "G-men" to die in the line of duty, Special Agent Truett E. Rowe, 33, of the El Paso bureau, was shot down late Tuesday in a mountain ranch house 20 miles south of here, where he trailed Osborne.

The fugitive has a criminal record that includes several prison sentences. He was at the home of his brother, John Wesley Osborne, when Rowe came for him. Rowe was accompanied by Chief of Police Kelsey Presley. He permitted Osborne to go to a bedroom to pack a suitcase before he was started back to Muskogee, Okla., to face a Dyer automobile theft charge.

In the bedroom, Osborne seized a gun and shot his captor through the side. Then he fled into the mountainous country. Presley rushed back to town with the dying "G-man," and quickly organized a posse for the manhunt.

Caught by Chief F. B. I. headquarters in Washington was notified and the department was preparing to send agents here by airplane to join the hunt when Presley captured the killer.

Osborne had returned to his brother's house for a horse when he met the posse on the road.

He had hidden near the ranch house until Presley left. Then he saddled up one of his brother's horses, collected a herd of cattle and began driving them down the road, hoping to escape notice in his disguise as a cowboy.

As he met the possemen, he shouted: "Go on, drive the cattle. They need to be run over anyway." Presley said later he almost passed the fugitive by, when he noticed that rider's legs were doubled up in the stirrups that obviously were too short and were not suited to him. He approached for a closer inspection and Osborne surrendered without a fight.

Presley said he was waiting in an outer room while Rowe followed Osborne into the bedroom, and he did not witness the shooting. He said Rowe died before they reached town.

Accompanied by Wife Officers interviewed Osborne's 17-year-old wife at the ranch house. The girl, formerly from Checotah, Okla., was nonchalant. "He hadn't been in much trouble until he got in jail in Oklahoma," she said. They were married last November 25 and she accompanied him west, where he fled as a fugitive.

Presley said Osborne would be turned over to federal authorities if they desired to prosecute him for murder.

ANNA M'KINLEY NAMES CRUELTY IN DIVORCE SUIT

Anna M. McKinley, Ashville Route 1, filed suit for divorce, custody of a child and alimony, in common pleas court Tuesday against James W. S. McKinley, now in the county jail. The suit charges cruelty.

They were married in Circleville on March 28, 1923 and have a daughter, 12. An order preventing the defendant from interfering with Mrs. McKinley was allowed by Judge J. W. Adkins.

The trailer brings us the very latest thing in "traveling mortgagages."

COVADONGA IS READY
THE Count of Covadonga is a son of Alfonso, the last King of Spain. He is a young man who has been quite conspicuously in the public eye, principally as a night club habitue and by reason of his romantic adventures. Recently he was divorced by his young Cuban wife.
Now he reports to a world that is but mildly interested in his fortunes, if at all, that he is prepared to accept the crown of Spain in the event that General Franco restores the monarchy. The possibility that General Franco will restore the monarchy is remote indeed, and even more remote is the prospect of a return of a scion of the House of Bourbon to the throne.
All of the present miseries of the Spanish people are traceable to a Bourbon King who the instincts of a playboy who had no concern for the welfare of his people and watched with an indifferent and unsympathetic eye as they sank deeper and deeper into suffering and oppression.
If Spain is now a charnel house, which happens to be the case, the responsibility lies with a recreant, craven king who watched the gathering storm and then, self-centered until the end, fled across the border.

NIGHTY-NIGHT?
NOBODY batted an eyelash last year when the sweet young debs treated beach frequenters to views of themselves in shorts 'n' halter bathing suits. With few exceptions, they were allowed to cavort about unmolested in mere wisps of bathing suits cut frankly on lingerie lines.
The casual dash with which the lassies wore these far from complete outfits disarmed critics. But in the recent admission of some college girls that their dance dresses have been nothing but nighties with posies and belts added for verisimilitude, it seems the last feminine frontier has vanished. No more glamorous mystery remains.
Now then, are we in for an era of all-purpose togas when a lady can rush into a shop, buy but one garment of luscious tinted silk and, by a series of deft belt arrangements, be garbed for banquet or bed? It seems so, if the reported night-evening dresses are indications that a new vogue is in process of formation.
Something should be done about it if only for the sake of the disgruntled dress manufacturers. There are, apparently, only two ways out: Invoke 9 o'clock curfews all over the country and force the wearers of "nighty" evening gowns back to bed, or make the nighties as hideous, high-necked and repellent as those our grandmas got along with.
Our guess is these co-eds will soon tire of

CABINET MEMBERS IN NEW MOVE
WASHINGTON — Keep your eyes open for a new move to strengthen relations with Soviet Russia.
One or two Cabinet members have got restive over the narrow policy of the State Department in giving Russia the cold shoulder merely because of $178,000,000 in unsettled debts.
The ex-Allies owe this country about eleven billions, these officials point out, compared to which the Russian indebtedness is mere chicken-feed. Meanwhile the United States is cutting off its nose to spite its face by losing tremendous amounts of profitable trade, also Russian political support in the Far East.
NOTE—Present State Department policy is to put Russia on the No. 3 or worst list in setting tariff rates, and to refuse all dealings with her through the Export-Import Bank. Meanwhile the banks give credits to Fascist Italy.

BASQUE CHILDREN
The State Department has been under terrific undercover pressure by Catholic groups to prevent the admission of 500 Basque children, whom American sympathizers plan to place with American families as a result of the siege of Bilbao.
Catholic leaders claim that the children were to be placed in the home of American Communists.
However, the State Department stood its ground. In the first place, Basque Catholic priests are to accompany the children and make sure that they are properly cared for.
In the second place, a secret precedent already existed for the admission of refugee children, when 250 German-Jewish children came here during the Nazi purge.
Incidentally, applications for Basque children already have been received from 2,700 American families. Since there are only 500 to go around, the committee plans to be very choosy about the foster-parents. Probably the kids will live in clover.

MARITIME RAID
The new U. S. Maritime Commission can testify that "it never rains but it pours."
Working day and night to pass on shipping routes involving millions of dollars, which must be disposed of by June 30, the Commissioners suddenly have been confronted by a flank raid on Capitol Hill.
Railway lobbyists, operating behind the scenes, have engineered bills transferring regulatory authority over inland, coastwise and foreign shipping lines to the Interstate Commerce Commission. This would deflate the Maritime Commission like a pricked balloon.
For years the railroads have been trying to jockey regulation of competing water carriers under the wing of the ICC—where it would be administered by railroad-minded officials.

World At A Glance —By— Charles P. Stewart

Dr. Frederick A. Cook is prompt to remark that the Russian flyers, now at the north pole or thereabouts, will not have been there long before their investigations will prove him to have been the first white man (Eskimos possibly excepted, but they're not white) to have set foot on the top of the world.
It is difficult to imagine what the proof can be.
The doctor never professed to have left any marker on the pole in evidence of his supposed visit there. And, if he had, it would not be there now, for according to his own story the northern end of the earth's axis is under many fathoms of water and a great many feet of drifting ice, which must have floated away indefinitely since he says he was in that vicinity.
Nevertheless, Doctor Cook interests me, since I was one of the first newspaper correspondents to interview him on his return from the boreal regions many years ago.
It was on the bridge of the Danish government's steamship Hans Egede, inward bound from Greenland, that I talked with him, as the Hans steered into Copenhagen harbor. I had not a doubt that his trip was bona fide. The captain and the crew of the Hans accepted his account implicitly. So did Danish navigators generally—and they are specialists in Arctic waters. I believed that they were entitled to speak with authority.
A decade later, after Doctor Cook had been thoroughly discredited, Capt. Hempel of the Danish-American line, assured me: "At least Cook came as near to the pole as Peary did."
PEARY WAS "OFFICIAL"
Peary had the advantage of official backing.
Cook got off a boat on the Greenland coast with about 30 cents in his pocket, made friends with a couple of Eskimos and started, unquestionably in good faith, for the north pole. He roamed the Arctic for months. It was an almost incredible performance, wherever he got. Personally I think he got to the north pole. At least, I think he thought he did.
He had had a marvelous record as an explorer already.
He was surgeon for the famous Belgian expedition to the Antarctic.
That expedition's commander pronounced him its salvation, because of his medical skill and the good cheer he gave. The Belgian government decorated him as a hero.
ANOTHER VENTURE
Then he ventured into Alaska, and related that he had ascended Mount McKinley.
There is no denying that his tale of that sounded like a fake.
Next he started after the north pole. He claimed to have attained it, and clashed with Peary.

When they go to tell Grandma of their engagement, Marcia learns her office has been trying to reach her. Sandy is hurt when she calls Los Angeles before telling her grandmother of their love. When Marcia insists on returning to her office—her rival advertising agency—at once, as a result of the phone call, Sandy leaves in a huff. Back in Los Angeles, Marcia, with keen disappointment when Abe Zimmerman, her employer, introduces her to Walt Hartley, his new partner. She herself had been led to believe she would be taken into the firm. Hartley asks Marcia to dinner and, on the spur of the moment she accepts. They bump into Sandy who fails to conceal his jealousy.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:
CHAPTER 10
IT WAS ONLY 8 o'clock when Hartley pulled his sleek black car to a halt before Marcia's apartment. The girl found it hard to be pleasant when she thought how unceremoniously he had dragged her away from the restaurant, and a possible reconciliation with Sandy. Then, in contrary mood, she resented Sandy's bitter attitude and wondered why he hadn't taken the initiative and carried her off for another glorious ride in his old gray car. She was confident that their troubles would have vanished as they roared down the boulevard.
With disgust she looked at the expensive, long nosed car that was Hartley's, and compared it with the man himself: Black and sleek, powerful and commanding respect for his very costliness—and now purring softly as if in pleasure of the company it kept.
"I must go in," she said in sudden panic. "Work, you know. It was nice of you to bother, bringing me home and all." And before the man could anticipate it, she jumped from the car and slipped through the shadows.
"Well, I'll be a favorite name," he muttered softly, then laughed out loud at the child-like directness she had exhibited in running away from a difficult situation.
For a minute he sat in the car, then with an impatient gesture he shifted it into gear and sped away. Marcia heard the exhaust popping, and smiled rather half-heartedly, thinking she had acted like an ingenue.
Hartley, she decided with a mental pout, had insinuating eyes. While he hadn't said a word to give her cause to mistrust him, she had a feeling that he wasn't the suave gentleman he appeared. Definitely, she decided against further associations with the man except in a strictly business way. Then thrusting all thoughts of men behind her, she put on a comfortable tweed skirt and short sleeved plum-colored sweater and began to organize her work for the evening.
Happily, she set up her easel, focused the light to her satisfaction, and then sat down cross-legged on the floor, her pencil and water colors to experiment on her new assignment. Her weariness slipped from her like magic, and her face reflected the interest she felt in her work.
"Now for it," she decided, and began a systematic examination of the various Char-Ming preparations she had brought home. "Hmm, nice goo," she remarked, smearing some of the "masque" upon her face. Carefully she read the directions, which prescribed complete relaxation while the beauty cream did its labor of love. Marcia always prefaced her work with as much practical experimentation as possible so that she could plan a direct and successful line of attack. Once she had accidentally dyed her hair green while faithfully "sampling" a client's hair tonic, "again shed nearly died" of mortification while experimenting with black nail polish. Tonight she stretched herself out on the couch, religiously determined to give the Char-Ming face masque an opportunity to perform.
Suddenly, she heard soft foot-steps and then hilarious, unrestrained laughter.

Systematic Exercises That Improves Posture
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
YESTERDAY we gave systematic bedroom exercises for exercising every muscle group in the body. Another feature of systematic exercises is postural exercises. The following exercises have been recommended for this purpose:
1. Lying on the Back; Hands Back of Neck—Take a deep breath and raise chest high; keep chest up and exhale by pulling abdomen in hard.
2. Same Position; Knees Bent, Feet Pulled Up—Pull abdomen in hard and then relax part way; also done standing with hands clasped on top of head.
3. Sitting in a Chair; Trunk Bending Forward—Incline trunk forward from the hips, keeping spine straight. This is the position which should be taken when bending forward to write or to do any other kind of desk work. The absence of the lowered chest and rounded back and shoulders of the incorrect position is striking. This exercise may be done standing.
4. Retracting Abdomen
5. Standing; Abdominal Retraction—Stand with the heels four inches away from the wall, but with the hips, shoulders and head touching the wall; flatten the lower part of the back against the wall by pulling in the abdominal muscles. This causes a downward rolling motion in the lower part of the back and flattens the lumbar curve. Holding this position, come away from the wall with the weight well forward on the balls of the feet. This suggests the correct standing position, but it should be held in a graceful, flexible manner.
6. Carrying the Head Forward, Clasp Hands Behind the Head—Force the head back against their pressure, keeping chin in. This strengthens the muscles of the back of the neck.
7. Spinal Curvatures—"Stand tall", holding the back straight. Rise on the toes with the arms extended forward and up, stretching the arms and the body.
8. Distended Abdomen—This condition may be successfully prevented and largely overcome by doing Exercises 2 and 4.
EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Throat Weakness, Reducing, Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions in the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

COVADONGA IS READY

THE Count of Covadonga is a son of Alfonso, the last King of Spain. He is a young man who has been quite conspicuously in the public eye, principally as a night club habitue and by reason of his romantic adventures. Recently he was divorced by his young Cuban wife.

Now he reports to a world that is but mildly interested in his fortunes, if at all, that he is prepared to accept the crown of Spain in the event that General Franco restores the monarchy. The possibility that General Franco will restore the monarchy is remote indeed, and even more remote is the prospect of a return of a scion of the House of Bourbon to the throne.

All of the present miseries of the Spanish people are traceable to a Bourbon King with the instincts of a playboy who had no concern for the welfare of his people and watched with an indifferent and unsympathetic eye as they sank deeper and deeper into suffering and oppression. If Spain is now a charnel house, which happens to be the case, the responsibility lies with a recreant, craven king who watched the gathering storm and then, self-centered until the end, fled across the border.

NIGHTY-NIGHT?

NOBODY batted an eyelash last year when the sweet young debs treated beach frequenters to views of themselves in shorts 'n' halter bathing suits. With few exceptions, they were allowed to cavort about unmolested in mere wisps of bathing suits cut frankly on lingerie lines.

The casual dash with which the lassies wore these far from complete outfits disarmed critics. But in the recent admission of some college girls that their dance dresses have been nothing but nighties with posies and belts added for verisimilitude, it seems the last feminine frontier has vanished. No more glamorous mystery remains.

Now then, are we in for an era of all-purpose togas when a lady can rush into a shop, buy but one garment of luscious tinted silk and, by a series of deft belt arrangements, be garbed for banquet or bed? It seems so, if the reported night-evening dresses are indications that a new vogue is in process of formation.

Something should be done about it if only for the sake of the disgruntled dress manufacturers. There are, apparently, only two ways out: Invoke 9 o'clock curfews all over the country and force the wearers of "nighty" evening gowns back to bed, or make the nighties as hideous, high-necked and repellent as those our grandmas got along with.

Our guess is these co-eds will soon tire of against him. It was a black item.

DOWNFALL

Then he was accused of oil frauds in Texas, and got a penitentiary term.

Of course that finished him. To be sure, he was a recognized wonder as a convict-doctor in the Fort Leavenworth prison hospital.

Subsequently, on his release, he was drafted for medical duty during an outbreak of disease at Tampico, and the Mexican government voted him a token of its respect for his services there.

But he still is, in common acceptance, the fraud who did not get to the north pole.

Whether he reached the north pole or not, he was most lovable.

WEATHER INTERESTS U. S.

The U. S. weather bureau is intensely interested in the Soviet's north polar observations.

Weather, from the pole, pours over into the northern continental areas.

There it meets weather arising from the tropics.

The mixture makes weather in the northern temperate zone.

Tropical weather is calculable. Arctic weather never has been, because there never has been anyone there to record it for a year on end.

Now, with a polar station in operation, long distance forecasts—a couple of weeks in advance or more—may be possible.

Dr. Cook, as a pioneer, does not signify.

For a minute he sat in the car, then with an impatient gesture he shifted it into gear and sped away. Marcia heard the exhaust popping, and smiled rather half-heartedly, thinking she had acted like an ingenue.

Hartley, she decided with a mental pout, had insinuating eyes. While he hadn't said a word to give her cause to mistrust him, she had a feeling that he wasn't the suave gentleman he appeared. Definitely, she decided against further associations with the man except in a strictly business way. Then thrusting all thoughts of men behind her, she put on a comfortable tweed skirt and short sleeved plum-colored sweater and began to organize her work for the evening.

Happily, she set up her easel, focused the light to her satisfaction, and then sat down cross-legged on the floor to select pencils and water colors to experiment on her new assignment. Her weariness slipped from her like magic, and her face reflected the interest she felt in her work.

"Now for it," she decided, and began a systematic examination of the various Char-Ming preparations she had brought home. "Hmm, nice goo," she remarked, smearing some of the "masque" upon her face. Carefully she read the directions, which prescribed complete relaxation while the beauty cream did its labor of love. Marcia always prefaced her work with as much practical experimentation as possible so that she could plan a direct and successful line of attack. Once she had accidentally dyed her hair green while faithfully "sampling" a client's hair tonic; again she'd nearly died of moribundness while experimenting with black nail polish.

Tonight she stretched herself out on the couch, religiously determined to give the Char-Ming face masque an opportunity to perform. Suddenly, she heard soft footfalls and then hilarious, unrestrained laughter.

"For the love of all that's holy, what's this—are you practicing to be a mummy? Oh, you won't talk, eh? Well, that's lovely. Now maybe I'll have a chance to get in a few words."

She heard the two men talking confidentially.

masque kept any vestige of a smile from showing on her stiffening countenance.

"Well, old Stonewall Madden. I just came over to see if I could help you on that Char-Ming business. Do you need another experimental station? I'd gladly be a guinea pig for you, and for Acme," she said, striking a pose.

In desperation Marcia grabbed a pencil and stalking over to her drawing board outlined the words, "This is the first time I've ever known you to be funny, and yet I can't laugh!"

A few minutes later she steamed her face in warm water, then cold, and emerged shining and gay.

Marcia appraised her friend anew as she stood in the dim light of her room that evening, looking decidedly younger than her 30 years. Not beautiful, she nevertheless had a poised and graciousness that was charming. At the office she was inclined to be a trifle austere, but in the friendly atmosphere of this room there was no hint of reserve. Marcia admired the creamy texture of her skin, so well set off by her gleaming black hair. From a beauty standpoint her nose was too reticent, but Marcia approved this one sign of rebellion in the otherwise too-perfect Ellen.

"It was grand of you to come, Ellen," Marcia offered her friend a cigarette before the two settled down to serious consultation.

"Now get off," commanded Marcia after an hour. "You need sleep, and I need to concentrate. Thanks for coming and goodbye."

After literally pushing her friend out the door, Marcia dabbled in other Char-Ming boxes, read the chemical analysis and typed literature Abe had included with the cosmetics. Seeing in her mind's eye the beautiful lotus-like skin of lovely Chinese ladies, she began to sketch aimlessly, then more definitely. Using the flower as a basis she developed a characteristic signature, then another. Feverishly, she experimented with colors and evolved a type of distinctive design which would mark a Char-Ming advertisement wherever it might appear.

Analyzing woman's age-old quest for beauty, she laid foundations for a psychological appeal to their vanity. Realizing that the copy required days of technical, even historical research, she left that for the future. The corner clock chimed 3 and she gathered together her sketches and brief notations, then sleepily fell into bed.

The next was the first of several busy days, when Abe and Marcia went over plans—the man eliminating and cutting where the ideas didn't appeal to his keen merchandising sense. A new girl was called in to help on copy in the emergency rush of business, and Marcia devoted her attention almost wholly ly to developing her art sketches. Relieved of much of the routine that had hampered her in the past, she found genuine pleasure in her work. Hartley occasionally ventured a suggestion, and was genuinely puzzled when Marcia resented his help. She still was suspicious of the new partner.

Bursting into Abe's office one afternoon, she heard the two men talking confidentially. "—his name is Knight, and he's in charge of the new branch office. But he hasn't a chance to get this Char-Ming account away from us. We've got old Thornton sewed up."

Quietly she backed out, then went hastily into Ellen's cubicle. "I'm in a fix," she confided, not taking time to think. Hurriedly she outlined her love for Sandy and his ambitions. "Now he's trying for this account, and it must mean so much to him. He hasn't a ghost of a chance, unless he knows what he's up against. Why, with the money Acme is spending for a presentation he'd have to submit something terrific to have a look-in. What'll I do, Ellen—talk to him?"

"Just off hand I'd say your loyalty was to Abe, Marcia. After all, he's paying your salary and you owe him something." Ellen used cold logic to convince Marcia of her obligations, even though she sympathized with her feelings.

That night, Sandy stopped at Marcia's apartment as casually as if there had been no misunderstanding. His only reference to the rift was an embarrassed, "Let's start over again, Marcia. I'll try to understand your side of it."

Almost immediately he launched enthusiastically into his plans to land the Char-Ming account. Without the financial backing or the inside contact his simple plan had no chance for success and Marcia bit her tongue to keep trust with Acme. Her seeming approval acted as a boomerang a few minutes later when she made a slip revealing that she was working on the same prospect.

"And you never told me. Let me go on bragging like a kid about my plans, when already you—Say, maybe you wanted me to talk so you'd know what you have to compete with." Again Sandy let his hurt get the better of him, and flared up. "You career women are all alike. Selfish and unscrupulous. You'd scalp your own grandmother if it would help you get ahead." "Oh, Sandy," Marcia said bitterly, too tired to combat this continual distrust. What use to tell him she had kept silent out of a feeling of loyalty, if he had not more loyalty to her than that. "You'd better go," she said and shook her head when he would say more. Gently she pushed him toward the door, then closed it wearily behind him.

Holding this position, come away from the wall with the weight well forward on the balls of the feet. This suggests the correct standing position, but it should be held in a graceful, flexible manner.

5. Standing; Leg Raising—Stand with hands on hips, back flat and chin in; raise leg forward without bending the knee; lower it; repeat with other leg. This exercise teaches how to hold the back flat while balancing the body and doing a leg exercise.

6. Carrying the Head Forward, Clasp Hands Behind the Head—Force the head back against their pressure, keeping chin in. This strengthens the muscles of the back of the neck.

7. Spinal Curvatures—"Stand tall", holding the back straight. Rise on the toes with the arms extended forward and up, stretching the arms and the body.

8. Distended Abdomen—This condition may be successfully prevented and largely overcome by doing Exercises 2 and 4.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Seven pamphlets by Dr. Clendenning can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks Reducing Diet", "Indigestion and Constipation", "Reducing and Gaining", "Infant Feeding", "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes", "Feminine Hygiene", and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

Poems That Live

"I SAW TWO CLOUDS AT MORNING"

I saw two clouds at morning,
Tinged by the rising sun,
And in the dawn they floated on,
And mingled into one;
I thought that morning cloud was blest,
It moved so sweetly to the west.

I saw two summer currents
Flow smoothly to their meeting,
And join their course, with silent force
In peace each other greeting;
Calm was their course through banks of green,
While dimpling eddies played between.

Such be your gentle motion,
Till life's last pulse shall beat;
Like summer's beam, and summer's stream,
Float on, in joy, to meet
A calmer sea, where storms shall cease,
A purer sky, where all is peace.

Benevolent Society Aids Many With Milk, Clothes

Report For May Lists Much Activity of Social Worker

The Circleville Benevolent society held its regular monthly meeting, Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock in the City Cottage, Mrs. B. T. Hodges, presiding.

Miss Clara Southward gave her report for the month of May, stating that she had made 183 visits in the homes and on behalf of clients. Used clothing was distributed to 23 families, the items being four pairs of shoes, 18 pairs of stockings and socks, ten hats and caps, 64 garments, and 125 miscellaneous articles.

During the month of May, eight families received one quart of milk daily, and one tubercular patient received two quarts daily. Since March, the society has distributed milk for undernourished school children, the milk being given at the different city schools. High street school has received six, one-half pints daily; Franklin street school 22, one-half pints daily; Corwin street school eight, one-half pints daily, and Walnut street school 10, one-half pints daily.

General discussion of the work followed. The Benevolent society will be grateful for donations of used or new clothing, or any articles useful in the home.

MARIAN MARTIN PATTERN

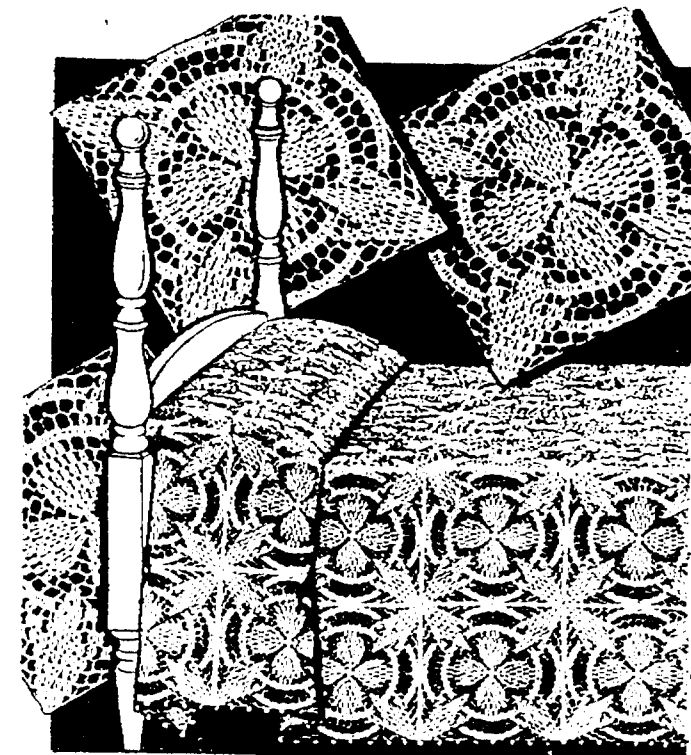

PATTERN 9290
You'll practically live in this "round-the-clock" Marian Martin frock, and be amazed how quickly you can run-up this casual model. You'll like the flattering yoke panel, one that continues down the front to end in a crisp action pleat. And just think! You can have your choice of two entirely different sleeves! For a "square-shouldered" effect, use the brief hand type or, if you prefer, have those that puff at the shoulder. The casual V neckline, too, is another note to this "all purpose" frock. Pattern 9290 would be lovely in a bright-hued linen, shantung, pique, or any colorful washable fabric. Add a row of saucily contrasting buttons down the front, and you're ready to go! Complete Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9290 may be ordered only in misses' and women's sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 16 requires 4 yards 36 inch fabric.

Send FIFTEEN CENTS in coin or stamps (coins preferred) for EACH MARIAN MARTIN pattern. Be sure to write plainly your SIZE, NAME, ADDRESS, and STYLE NUMBER.

Charm of Yester-Year in Crochet

PATTERN 5871

"Only Yesterday" Grandmother crocheted a similar spread — one you can easily match for loveliness with this simplified "popcorn" design. You'll love the rich "raised" effect the popcorn stitches give each of the 9 1/2 inch squares which comprise this exquisite piece — squares you do separately and join with crochet hook. Such luxury proves humble economy when you realize this is made of plain, everyday string. In pattern 5871 you will find instructions for making the square shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches used; material requirements; a photograph of the square. DIETRICH OF WHITE SOX PITCHES NO-HIT NO-RUN GAME AGAINST BROWNS

ONLY THREE MEN GET ON BASES IN LEAGUE FRAY

Bull-Pen Hurler Becomes Member of Hall of Fame by Work

JIMMY DYKES JUSTIFIED

Waiver Price Paid For Big Righthanded Tossing

NEW YORK, June 2—(UP)—William J. Dietrich's name went up in baseball's Hall of Fame today.

Don't be afraid to ask: "Who's he?" Until late yesterday afternoon Dietrich was just a bull-pen pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, and not a very good one at that.

But today Dietrich, 27-year-old bespectacled, right-hander had accomplished the perfect pitching feat—a no-hit, no-run game. Unable to pitch nine complete innings all season, he handcuffed the St. Louis Browns, one of the hardest-hitting teams in baseball, and scored an 8 to 0 triumph.

The Browns, who boast a batting average of .292, only one point less than the league-leading Boston Red Sox, got only three men on base. Rollie Hemmery walked in the sixth, but he was erased when Tom Carey hit into a double play. Then Pitcher Walkup walked, but Davis grounded out to end the inning. In the seventh Beau Bell was safe on Plet's fumble, but Dietrich fanned Harland Clift to retire the side.

With Many Clubs Dietrich, who won eight games and lost 11 pitching for the A's, Senators and White Sox last season, fanned five men and walked two. Until he achieved his masterpiece Dietrich had won one game and lost one this season.

Manager Jimmy Dykes saved Dietrich from going to the minors when Washington asked waivers on him last season. He never showed more than ordinary promise but Dykes always claimed Dietrich had the stuff to make a star some day. Yesterday Dietrich vindicated Dykes' judgment.

Dietrich is 27, weighs 190 pounds and is six feet in height. He was born in Philadelphia and got his first tryout with the Athletics in 1936. He played with Harrisburg, Wilkes-Barre, Portland

INDIANS TO PLAY NEW YORK WITH VETERAN ON HILL

CLEVELAND, June 2—(UP)—The Cleveland Indians today faced a great opportunity to tighten the American league pennant race and to strengthen their own flag chances when they met the New York Yankees in the first of a three game series.

Earl Whitehill, the veteran southpaw, was to hurl for the Indians, with young Spurgeon Chandler opposing him.

Cleveland gained one-half game on the idle Yanks yesterday when it completed a sweep of the series with Detroit by grabbing the final 4 to 3. The Indians now trail New York by three games and need to take all three contests from the current leaders to better their chances materially.

and Montreal before getting back to the A's.

The White Sox rapped Hogsett and Van Atta for 10 hits, with Mike Kreevich getting three of them. The victory enabled the White Sox to move into fourth place ahead of the idle Boston Red Sox.

MAXIE TO WEIGH IN FOR 'FIGHT' WITH BRADDOCK

NEW YORK, June 2—(UP)—Max Schmeling, challenger for the heavyweight title, will go through the formality of weighing-in today for his scheduled fight with Champion Jimmy Braddock in the Long Island bowl tomorrow night.

Max knows that Jim is training to fight Joe Louis in Chicago June 22 and has no intention of keeping the date with him, but he is keeping his bargain to the letter so that he can claim Braddock's $5,000 forfeit posted with the New York Boxing Commission and bolster his chances in possible court action.

TAY BROWN QUILTS CINCINNATI JOB TO RETURN HOME

CINCINNATI, June 2—(UP)—Raymond (Tay) Brown, football line coach and head basketball mentor at the University of Cincinnati for the last four years, resigned today.

An all-American tackle at the University of Southern California five years ago, Brown quit here to become head coach of football and basketball at Compton, Cal., Junior College. Brown attended this school before he went to Southern California.

Although the present athletic unrest at U. C. may have had something to do with Brown's action, he denied it was responsible for his move.

"I'm taking the new job because I feel it is an advancement," he said. "I came here to work with older men and now I feel that I would like to go out on my own. Compton is my home town and that is one major reason I am returning there. The new position also pays more than my present one."

BUSKIRK GIVES THREE BINGLES IN SHUTOUT TILT

Container Corporation Team Outplays Army Outfit in 9 to 0 Game

LUTZ TOUCHED FOR NINE

Errors and Watson's Home Run Add to Damage

Leonard Buskirk, righthanded tosser of the Container Corporation softball team, had another shutout to his credit, Wednesday, after blanking the 136th Battery outfit in a 9-0 game Tuesday.

Buskirk, who twirled a one-hit fray two weeks ago, gave the army lads only three bingles, Thompson, Ferguson and Stevens, hitting safely. He fanned four and walked one in the 7-inning fray.

Lutz, tossing for the losers, did good work except in the third inning when the strawboarders cracked out four hits, combined with three errors, for six runs. Eddie Watson clubbed the ball for the circuit in this frame. Nine hits were gleaned during the fray by the winners.

Lineups were: Container Corporation: Watson, sf; Trimmer, 1b; I. Brungs, 3b; Hutchinson, 2b; R. Brungs, cf; Strawser, c; Dollison, rf; Butler, lf; Whaley, ss; Buskirk, p. 136th Battery: F. Bowsher, 2b; Smalley, lf; Stevens, ss; Thompson, c; Davis, 3b; Wellington, 1b; Brown, rf; Bowsher, cf; Ferguson, sf; Lutz, p.

MONEY PLAYERS WIN PLACES IN NATIONAL MEET

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—With several leading professional stars and the entire contingent of 12 linkmen who qualified in Ohio's two sectional tests today set their sights on the National Open championship which will be decided June 10-12 at Birmingham, Mich.

In tests yesterday at the Losantiville course at Cincinnati and the Manikiki course at Cleveland, the dozen golfers outshot their competitors in a field of 116 who sought the coveted places.

Those who made the grade at Cincinnati were: Bill Kaiser, Louisville, Ky., 72-69 — 141; Jack Ryan, Louisville, Ky., 71-71 — 142; Ralph Stonehouse, Dayton, 69-74 — 143; Al Marchi, Columbus, 71-73 — 144; Larry Schalk, Hamilton, O., 71-73 — 144; and Ed Werner, Cincinnati, 74-73 — 147.

The qualifiers at Cleveland were: Waldo Crowder, Cleveland, 70-74 — 144; Ted Luther, Youngstown, 71-73 — 144; John Perkins, Cleveland, 74-71 — 145; John Mautice, Struthers, 74-71 — 145; Joe Knepper, Cleveland, 75-71 — 146 and Reggie Myles, Cleveland, 75-75 — 150.

JENKINS WINS TROPHY Joe Jenkins won the Pickaway Country Club's Memorial Day trophy with a net score of 70. Other prizes went to Mac Mader in putting and Dr. Phillips in driving.

YESTERDAY'S HERO — Bill Dietrich, White Sox's bespectacled bull-pen pitcher, who joined such immortals as Carl Hubbell, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Walter Johnson and others by pitching a no-hit, no-run game.

DIETRICH OF WHITE SOX PITCHES NO-HIT NO-RUN GAME AGAINST BROWNS

ONLY THREE MEN GET ON BASES IN LEAGUE FRAY

Bull-Pen Hurler Becomes Member of Hall of Fame by Work

JIMMY DYKES JUSTIFIED

Waiver Price Paid For Big Righthanded Tosser

NEW YORK, June 2—(UP)—William J. Dietrich's name went up in baseball's Hall of Fame today.

Don't be afraid to ask: "Who's he?" Until late yesterday afternoon Dietrich was just a bull-pen pitcher for the Chicago White Sox, and not a very good one at that.

But today Dietrich, 27-year-old bespectacled, right-hander had accomplished the perfect pitching feat—a no-hit, no-run game. Unable to pitch nine complete innings all season, he handcuffed the St. Louis Browns, one of the hardest-hitting teams in baseball, and scored an 8 to 0 triumph.

The Browns, who boast a batting average of .292, only one point less than the league-leading Boston Red Sox, got only three men on base. Rollie Hemsey walked in the sixth, but he was erased when Tom Carey hit into a double play. Then Pitcher Walkup walked, but Davis grounded out to end the inning. In the seventh Beau Bell was safe on Plet's fumble, but Dietrich fanned Harland Cliff to retire the side.

With Many Clubs Dietrich, who won eight games and lost 11 pitching for the A's, Senators and White Sox last season, fanned five men and walked two. Until he achieved his masterpiece Dietrich had won one game and lost one this season.

Manager Jimmy Dykes saved Dietrich from going to the minors when Washington asked waivers on him last season. He never showed more than ordinary promise but Dykes always claimed Dietrich had the stuff to make a star some day. Yesterday Dietrich vindicated Dykes' judgment.

Dietrich is 27, weighs 190 pounds and is six feet in height. He was born in Philadelphia and got his first tryout with the Athletics in 1926. He played with Harrisburg, Wilkes-Barre, Portland

INDIANS TO PLAY NEW YORK WITH VETERAN ON HILL

CLEVELAND, June 2—(UP)—The Cleveland Indians today faced a great opportunity to tighten the American league pennant race and to strengthen their own flag chances when they met the New York Yankees in the first of a three game series.

Earl Whitehill, the veteran southpaw, was to hurl for the Indians, with young Spurgeon Chandler opposing him.

Cleveland gained one-half game on the idle Yanks yesterday when it completed a sweep of the series with Detroit by grabbing the finale 4 to 3. The Indians now trail New York by three games and need to take all three contests from the current leaders to better their chances materially.

and Montreal before getting back to the A's.

The White Sox rapped Hogsett and Van Atta for 10 hits, with Mike Kreech getting three of them. The victory enabled the White Sox to move into fourth place ahead of the idle Boston Red Sox.

Trains for Jim

ROPE skipping is part of Joe Louis' daily training routine as he preps at Kenosha, Wis., for his title fight with Champion Jimmy Braddock in Chicago on June.

MAXIE TO WEIGH IN FOR 'FIGHT' WITH BRADDOCK

NEW YORK, June 2—(UP)—Max Schmeling, challenger for the heavyweight title, will go through the formality of weighing-in today for his scheduled fight with Champion Jimmy Braddock in the Long Island bowl tomorrow night.

Max knows that Jim is training to fight Joe Louis in Chicago June 22 and has no intention of keeping the date with him, but he is keeping his bargain to the letter so that he can claim Braddock's $5,000 forfeit posted with the New York Boxing Commission and bolster his chances in possible court action.

TAY BROWN QUILTS CINCINNATI JOB TO RETURN HOME

CINCINNATI, June 2—(UP)—Raymond (Tay) Brown, football line coach and head basketball mentor at the University of Cincinnati for the last four years, resigned today.

An all-American tackle at the University of Southern California five years ago, Brown quit here to become head coach of football and basketball at Compton, Cal., Junior College. Brown attended this school before he went to Southern California.

Although the present athletic unrest at U. C. may have had something to do with Brown's action, he denied it was responsible for his move.

"I'm taking the new job because I feel it is an advancement," he said. "I came here to work with older men and now I feel that I would like to go out on my own. Compton is my home town and that is one major reason I am returning there. The new position also pays more than my present one."

BUSKIRK GIVES THREE BINGLES IN SHUTOUT TILT

Container Corporation Team Outplays Army Outfit in 9 to 0 Game

LUTZ TOUCHED FOR NINE

Errors and Watson's Home Run Add to Damage

Leonard Buskirk, righthanded tosser of the Container Corporation softball team, had another shutout to his credit, Wednesday, after blanking the 136th Battery outfit in a 9-0 game Tuesday.

Buskirk, who twirled a one-hit fray two weeks ago, gave the army lads only three bingles, Thompson, Ferguson and Stevens, hitting safely. He fanned four and walked one in the 7-inning fray.

Lutz, tossing for the losers, did good work except in the third inning when the strawboarders cracked out four hits, combined with three errors, for six runs. Eddie Watson clubbed the ball for the circuit in this frame. Nine hits were gleaned during the fray by the winners.

Lineups were:
Container Corporation: Watson, sf; Trimmer, 1b; I. Brungs, 3b; Hutchinson, 2b; R. Brungs, cf; Strawser, c; Dollison, rf; Butler, lf; Whaley, ss; Buskirk, p.

136th Battery: F. Bowsher, 2b; Smalley, lf; Stevens, ss; Thompson, c; Davis, 3b; Wellington, 1b; Brown, rf; Bowsher, cf; Ferguson, sf; Lutz, p.

MONEY PLAYERS WIN PLACES IN NATIONAL MEET

COLUMBUS, June 2—(UP)—With several leading professional stars and the entire contingent of aspiring amateurs on the sidelines 12 linkmen who qualified in Ohio's two sectional tests today set their sights on the National Open championship which will be decided June 10-12 at Birmingham, Mich.

In tests yesterday at the Losantville course at Cincinnati and the Manikiki course at Cleveland, the dozen golfers outshot their competitors in a field of 116 who sought the coveted places.

Those who made the grade at Cincinnati were: Bill Kaiser, Louisville, Ky., 72-69 — 141; Jack Ryan, Louisville, Ky., 71-71 — 142; Ralph Stonehouse, Dayton, 69-74 — 143; Al Marchi, Columbus, 71-73 — 144; Larry Schalk, Hamilton, O., 71-73 — 144; and Ed Werner, Cincinnati, 74-73 — 147.

The qualifiers at Cleveland were: Waldo Crowder, Cleveland, 70-74 — 144; Ted Luther, Youngstown, 71-73 — 144; Phil Perkins, Cleveland, 74-71 — 145; John Malutic, Struthers, 74-71 — 145; Joe Knepper, Cleveland, 75-71 — 146 and Reggie Myles, Cleveland, 75-75 — 150.

JENKINS WINS TROPHY

Joe Jenkins won the Pickaway Country Club's Memorial Day trophy with a net score of 70. Other prizes went to Mac Mader in putting and Dr. Phillips in driving.

YESTERDAY'S HERO — Bill Dietrich

MAJOR SUITS PREFERRED

HANDS ON WHICH four-odd can be made at either of two suits are quite frequent, whereas those on which five-odd can be made are relatively much rarer. That is why game is made at a major suit approximately four times as often as at a minor suit. It is also the main reason why fine players will strain to find a major suit fit, even at a bit of added risk. Still another reason is the fact that a major suit game counts more and, in tournament play, can mean the difference between a top and a bottom.

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable).

After a pass by East, South opened the bidding on this deal with 1-Heart, West called 2-Clubs, North passed, as did East, and South bid 2-Hearts. North now put in a bid of 2-Spades and South rebid his hearts. Still fearful of the contract in that suit, North bid his diamonds and, instead of assisting them, South went to 4-Hearts, which East was delighted to double.

South's reason for not taking the contract to 5-Diamonds was that with West's overall he placed the spade A in that hand and was afraid a game in diamonds could not be made, whereas there was a chance for the heart game.

West led the singleton diamond J, which declarer won in the dummy with the diamond K, so as to take the heart finesse. On this diamond he was very careful to drop the diamond 9. Had he failed to do this, his contract would not have been made. Declarer now finessed the heart 9, laid down the heart A and then gave a trick to East with the heart K. The spade A was now cashed and a club returned, so that the declarer made five, doubled.

R. V. D. KERNS QUILTS HEALTH COMMISSIONER'S JOB, EFFECTIVE SEPT. 1

BOARD DECIDES TO MAKE POST FULL-TIME ONE

Harry T. Dick, of Monroe Township, Elected New President

CONFAB FIVE HOURS LONG

Physician to Continue His Circleville Practice

Dr. V. D. Kerns, Pickaway county's health commissioner since Dec. 14, 1935, announced his resignation Wednesday as a part-time commissioner, effective Sept. 1.

Dr. Kerns will continue his private practice in Circleville.

The resignation followed a special meeting of the board of health Tuesday afternoon. Board members started their session about 2 p. m. and finished up five hours later. The main issue discussed was whether or not the commissioner position be on a part-time or full-time basis. Their final decision was that it be on a full-time basis after Sept. 1.

H. E. Defenbaugh, Tarlton, was recently appointed to the board for a five-year term succeeding Leo McKenzie, formerly president of the group. Harry T. Dick, Mt. Sterling, R. F. D., was elected president, and Alva Courtwright, Ashville, vice president.

SENATE TO KEEP ITS HANDS OFF SPANISH CRISIS

WASHINGTON, June 2 — (UP)

Chairman Key Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee said today his committee contemplated no action in the present European crisis because any action might disrupt efforts of the European non-intervention nations and "endanger our own peace."

Pittman said the committee discussed the neutrality situation today, but determined against any action.

"The president has the authority to decide if a state of war exists and if the neutrality act should be invoked," Pittman said.

"The European non-intervention nations are seeking to keep the war localized in Spain, and so far have succeeded. There is nothing we can do to aid them and any attempted action on our part might disrupt their efforts and endanger our own peace."

JACKSON URGES WAGE AND HOUR BILL APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, June 2 — (UP)

Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general, today asked congress to enact President Roosevelt's new wage and hours measure as a challenge to the supreme court to overturn the 1918 ruling which declared the federal child labor law unconstitutional.

Jackson, assuring a joint meeting of house and senate labor committees that he regarded the new bill as constitutional in the light of recent court decisions, noted that the 1918 child labor ruling stood as a threat to constitutionality of federal wage and hours legislation.

Pointing to the supreme court's action during the term just ended in reversing its position on state minimum wage laws for women and children, Jackson characterized the "doctrine of the majority in the child labor case" as belonging "to the same dark era of legal thought as the decision holding that the minimum wage law was unconstitutional."

'MODEL' YOUTH GOES ON TRIAL IN GIRL'S DEATH

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 2 — (UP)

A 19-year-old model boy, who never drank or smoked and quit college to support his widowed mother, went on trial for his life today.

The youth, Thomas Edward Smith, is charged with the murder of Mary Ellen Babcock.

The state contends that Smith stabbed and beat Miss Babcock to death because of an "uncontrollable impulse."

Three other victims, including 14-year-old Frances Fitzgerald who was stabbed in the back with an ice pick, identified Smith and may be called as witnesses. The stabbing of Miss Fitzgerald led to his arrest.

The defense will plead insanity.

McCrady Warns Residents To Close Doors, Windows

With the arrival of warm weather, Police Chief William McCrady warned residents Wednesday to close doors and windows when leaving their homes. He explained screens were a temptation to burglars. So far, only one attempted burglary has been reported to the department.

The season has arrived also for "peeping toms," McCrady said. Residents who notice suspicious characters in their neighborhoods are asked to notify the police.

Europe that for the moment at least Germany and Italy are acting in close concert, particularly concerning Spain.

Because of the course of the civil war and lack of active French or British opposition to the previous Fascist-Nazi policy, Mussolini is said to be convinced that neither power would fight to keep Italy and Germany from pushing the nationalists to victory.

Misunderstanding Cited

Misunderstanding which caused reports that Italy and Germany would virtually block the Spanish coast was explained today. An official informant disclosed that at the request of Great Britain, Italy and Germany, while withdrawing from non-intervention co-operation as regards the London committee meetings, would continue to exercise port control. This means that while their warships will cease active patrol work for the present, German and Italian officials at designated ports will continue to check cargoes of ships bound for Spain.

SENATE TO KEEP ITS HANDS OFF SPANISH CRISIS

WASHINGTON, June 2 — (UP) — Chairman Key Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee said today his committee contemplated no action in the present European crisis because any action might disrupt efforts of the European non-intervention nations and "endanger our own peace."

Pittman said the committee discussed the neutrality situation today, but determined against any action. "The president has the authority to decide if a state of war exists and if the neutrality act should be invoked," Pittman said. "The European non-intervention nations are seeking to keep the warfare localized in Spain, and so far have succeeded. There is nothing we can do to aid them and any attempted action on our part might disrupt their efforts and endanger our own peace."

JACKSON URGES WAGE AND HOUR BILL APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, June 2 — (UP) — Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general, today asked congress to enact President Roosevelt's new wage and hours measure as a challenge to the supreme court to overturn the 1918 ruling which declared the federal child labor law unconstitutional.

Jackson, assuring a joint meeting of house and senate labor committees that he regarded the new bill as constitutional in the light of recent court decisions, noted that the 1918 child labor ruling stood as a threat to constitutionality of federal wage and hours legislation.

Pointing to the supreme court's action during the term just ended in reversing its position on state minimum wage laws for women and children, Jackson characterized the "doctrine of the majority in the child labor case" as belonging "to the same dark era of legal thought as the decision holding that the minimum wage law was unconstitutional."

'MODEL' YOUTH GOES ON TRIAL IN GIRL'S DEATH

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 2 — (UP) — A 19-year-old model boy, who never drank or smoked and quit college to support his widowed mother, went on trial for his life today. The youth, Thomas Edward Smith, is charged with the murder of Mary Ellen Babcock.

The state contends that Smith stabbed and beat Miss Babcock to death because of an "uncontrollable impulse."

Three other victims, including 14-year-old Frances Fitzgerald who was stabbed in the back with an ice pick, identified Smith and may be called as witnesses. The stabbing of Miss Fitzgerald led to his arrest.

The defense will plead insanity.

OHIO SHERIFF APPROVED COLUMBUS, June 2 — (UP) — The Ohio supreme court today upheld the appointment of George Lutz, Jr., as sheriff of Hamilton county.

McCrary Warns Residents To Close Doors, Windows

With the arrival of warm weather, Police Chief William McCrary warned residents Wednesday to close doors and windows when leaving their homes. He explained screens were a temptation to burglars. So far, only one attempted burglary has been reported to the department. The season has arrived also for "peeping toms," McCrary said. Residents who notice suspicious characters in their neighborhoods are asked to notify the police.

Republic, the nation's third largest steel producer and only one of the three independents which has attempted to operate during the one-week strike siege, reiterated its position firmly through its chairman, chunky, bespectacled, Tom Mercer Girdler.

The strike by the steel-organizing unit of John L. Lewis' Committee for Industrial Organization has cut Republic's production to less than half and shut down completely two other independents, Inland Steel Corporation and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company.

DUCE, HITLER'S AIDE TO CONFER

Because of the course of the civil war and lack of active French or British opposition to the previous Fascist-Nazi policy, Mussolini is said to be convinced that neither power would fight to keep Italy and Germany from pushing the nationalists to victory.

Misunderstanding Cited

Misunderstanding which caused reports that Italy and Germany would virtually block the Spanish coast was explained today. An official informant disclosed that at the request of Great Britain, Italy and Germany, while withdrawing from non-intervention co-operation as regards the London committee meetings, would continue to exercise port control. This means that while their warships will cease active patrol work for the present, German and Italian officials at designated ports will continue to check cargoes of ships bound for Spain.

York's east Bronx was being groomed today to be Tom Sawyer of the movies.
